I use cannabinoids for a few reasons. I have chronic back pain, I have issues eating, sleeping and I use it for my mood. I have been dealing with severe back pain since 2007, when I hurt it. The Dr's do not want to prescribe pain medication or even a muscle relaxer. Smoking helps alot with the pain. If I didn't have it I would be back in my bed like I was before it was legalized. I have to force myself to eat every day, and after I eat I used to throw up every time. With me smoking I don't have to force myself to eat and I don't throw up after I do eat. Due to my sever back pain it's a struggle to sleep and stay asleep. I can smoke when im ready to lay down and once I have and laid my head down im asleep in less than 5 mins. They also help with my mood. I have major depressive disorder as well as ptsd and major anxiety disorder. Marijuana has helped control my anxiety attacks. It keeps my mind calm so I am down to very few ptsd moments. And when I dont smoke im more irritable and angrier. My life has improved so much since starting to smoke. And dont misunerstand I am not high all the time. I only take 1 to 3 hits every 4 to 6 hours like I would pain medication and muscle relaxers. If all of the stores in Kansas City close I would be going right back the quality of life I had before. My transportation can only go so far out. Please dont take away my quality of life.
