The Issue

To the KCMO City Council, Neighborhood and Community Services Department, and Mayor Quinton Lucas:

We, the undersigned, are calling for immediate action to address the serious issues within KCMO's animal control system. The current contract has led to a failure in adequately enforcing ordinances and protecting animals in our city. It is time for accountability and change to ensure the well-being of Kansas City's animals.

The current Request for Proposal (RFP) process for a new animal control contract has closed and is under committee review. Soon, this committee will make its recommendation to Neighborhood and Community Services Director Forest Decker, who will present it along with his department's recommendation to the City Council. The next steps have not been announced.

We demand transparency and accountability throughout this process and urge the City Council to give the public an opportunity to voice their concerns when the matter comes to a council vote or recommendation.

Kansas City residents are overwhelmingly in favor of returning animal services to Kansas City so animals and humans can be protected again for the first time since 2020.

The past four years have shown a failure in the privatized animal control model. The condition of animals reaching the Kansas City Pet Project (KCPP) shelter reveals the urgent need for change. KCPP has seen a high volume of animals arriving emaciated, sick, fearful, injured, and in other states of distress, showing a significant lack of proactive animal welfare management.

This ends now.

We are asking for:

Enforcement of Ordinances: Animal welfare ordinances must be enforced consistently. Without enforcement, neglect and abuse go unchecked, harming countless animals.

Public Input: Ensure that the community can provide input during the council's review process, as citizens have firsthand experiences of the deficiencies in the current system.

Return Control to the City: Privatization has not worked. The City should take back control of animal services to ensure standards are met and the community's values are represented. Because of Kansas City's Failure to enforce the laws, humans and animals are in constant and consistent danger.

Transparency and Accountability: The public deserves updates and transparency throughout the decision-making process to understand how the City intends to address these concerns.

Our officials have a responsibility to the citizens and animals of Kansas City. Animal Services MUST go back to the city.

We ask you to listen to our concerns, enforce current ordinances, and prioritize humane treatment and care for all animals in KCMO. This issue impacts everyone, from residents to business owners and property owners in Kansas City.
