Greetings

As a Midtown resident of more than 10 years, I am excited to see the city removing unnecessary parking minimums and simplifying development requirements. I moved to this area because of the diversity of housing, small businesses, and walkability - not for the parking. Over the years we have seen numerous businesses either not open because of the old parking requirements or forced to go through an unnecessary variance process. Removing these arbitrary minimums is the easiest way to encourage new businesses that we desperately need.

Thank you
