I have been responsibly drinking Kratom tea to manage my Chronic pain for the past 6 years, it does not give me a high feeling like opiates use to, as an adult I should be able to choose a plant over pharmaceuticals. I am all for lab testing, regulations on packaging, age restrictions, all those things are good and protect the public, but a ban without factual evidence is government overreach.

Natural Kratom is wrongly being lumped into the same category as the synthetics & 70H, if this happens and you ban everything across the board thousands of people that rely on Natural Kratom will suffer. Please continue to research before banning Kratom. The DEA said it is 70H, NOT Kratom, that they wanted off the market.

Thank you for your time,

Torrie
